

Pre-K School-level Support Plans for School Year 20-21

DCPS recognizes the significant long-term impacts of high-quality Pre-K instruction. In School Year 2020-2021, DCPS will provide universal programming options that include robust instructional supports for our Pre-K programs along with social supports for families. DCPS' Early Childhood Education structure will align with the existing Cluster Support Model where each cluster of schools is led by an Instructional Superintendent and supported by a team of dedicated central office staff.

In this model, resources and supports will be differentiated across schools to ensure students furthest from opportunity have access to the services and supports that will enable them to enter kindergarten prepared for success. Schools serving a socioeconomically diverse student population may receive targeted supports, while schools serving the highest percentage of students designated as at-risk will receive robust instructional programming support and family services.
