The DC Public Schools Dual Language programs open the world to your child. Learn more about our 11 schools with Dual Language programs in English and Spanish!

What does “Dual Language” mean?

A Dual Language program provides students at least 50 percent of their instruction in another language. At DCPS, we currently offer Spanish Dual Language programs at 11 schools. Curriculum is designed so that instruction in Spanish builds upon instruction in English and vice versa. Students who complete our Dual Language programs will be bilingual and biliterate, while also achieving academic success and cultural competency.

What are the benefits of Dual Language education?

Dual Language students...

- Develop strong reading, writing, and speaking skills in two languages.
- Strengthen cognitive flexibility and problem-solving skills.
- Demonstrate greater understanding, appreciation, and respect for other cultures and languages.
- Often outperform monolingual peers academically.
- Are prepared to be successful in a global economy.

Spotlight on Dual Language programs opening in SY16-17

▶ Houston Elementary School

In SY16-17, Houston will offer two Pre-K-3 Spanish Dual Language classrooms. All students entering Pre-K3 will participate in the Dual Language program as the school grows into a whole-school Dual Language model.

▶ MacFarland Middle School

MacFarland Middle School will offer a Dual Language 6th grade program in SY16-17. This program will grow by one grade each year and join the newly modernized MacFarland campus in SY18-19. All students enrolled in 5th grade in DCPS Dual Language programs – specifically, programs at Powell, Bruce-Monroe, Bancroft, Tyler, Cleveland, and Marie Reed – are guaranteed a seat in the new program, but must apply through the MySchoolDC lottery.

▶ Roosevelt Senior High School

Roosevelt Senior High School will offer a 9th grade Dual Language strand program in SY16-17. Non-Dual Language programming for grades 9-12 will continue, and the Dual Language program will be an option for students who are proficient in Spanish writing, reading, speaking, and listening. Oyster-Adams 8th grade students will be guaranteed a seat, but must apply through the MySchoolDC lottery.
