Academic Integrity (non-discrimination)

The District of Columbia Public Schools (DCPS) is committed to providing equal opportunities and equal access to its educational programs and activities. This commitment is in accordance with the regulations implementing Title I and Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The District is committed to ensuring that no student is denied an education based on race, color, national origin, sex, age, or disability. Moreover, the District is committed to ensuring that all students have access to educational programs and activities that are free from discrimination.

The Office of the State Superintendent for Education (OSSE) and the Office of Integrity (OIC) are responsible for enforcing the District's nondiscrimination policies and ensuring that all students are provided with equal opportunities for education.

Integrity Office

The Integrity Office is responsible for ensuring that all students are provided with equal opportunities for education. The office is committed to ensuring that all students have access to educational programs and activities that are free from discrimination.

Parents and Students

Parents and students have the right to know about their educational rights. This includes the right to receive information about the District's policies and procedures, as well as the right to participate in the decision-making process. The District is committed to ensuring that all parents and students are provided with equal opportunities for education.
